HEALTH OFFICER TELLS COUNCIL OF VACCINATIONS

Several Hundred Dixon Persons Take Action Against Smallpox

(Editor's Note — Next in the Roosevelt Cabinet to receive the Brass Ring is "Uncle Dan" Roper, Secretary of Commerce. Herewith he gets his free ride on The Washington Merry-Go-Round.)

WASHINGTON—Daniel Calhoun Roper has one outstanding distinction. He is the only member of the Roosevelt Cabinet who is an all-around, 100 per cent flop.

His colleagues have their usual dismal sides, but each also has one or more redeeming features. Miss Perkins, for example, has been a sad failure as a public executive, but an excellent administrator of Labor Department routine. Attorney General Homer Cummings has been a complete failure as a trust-buster, but he does know law. And only "Uncle Dan" is without a qualifying virtue. Of the ten cabinet members, he alone is an undiluted washout.

He is dull, mealy-mouthed, incompetent and reactionary. He is no more qualified to be a Cabinet member, particularly in a liberal Administration, than the Man in the Moon. Roper's kinship to the New Deal goes no further than sitting in a swivel chair and drawing $15,000 a year.

Yet he hangs on. How he has done so is one of the mysteries of Washington. After the President's re-election, some of his close friends bluntly told him he ought to get rid of Roper; that whatever political debt owed Roper in 1932 was amply repaid, and the Department of Commerce should be governed by a first-class man. So everyone around the White House was sure Roper would be "kicked upstairs" to a soft diplomatic post.

But the inauguration came, went, and nothing happened. Roosevelt made no move to oust his Secretary of Commerce and the last thing "Uncle Dan" contemplated was to exit without an official invitation. Various explanations have been offered by White House intimates for the President's retention of Roper. The most common is that Roper underwent tedious financial reverses, and Roosevelt, unable to find him another acceptable job, has not had the heart to oust him.

CHINESE HURL MODERN UNITS AGAINST JAPS

Shanghai, April 2—(AP)—The Chinese hurled new mechanized units into the battle raging at Taichang on the south Shanghai front today.

This city on the grand canal stands in the way of Japan's offensive against the Lunghai railway, vital transportation artery of central China.

The walls of Taichang were blasted into ruins and mud houses were reduced to dust, but the stubbornly-resisting Chinese, who for 20 days have blocked all Japanese thrusts at the rail line, were still holding.

The Japanese claimed to have occupied the villages of Tungchow and Fankow, five miles away.

Japanese planes swooped low over Yihshien and Taichang, northwest of Taichang, dropping food and munitions by parachute. They also dropped leaflets encouraging Japanese, almost encircled, to hold out until reinforcements arrived from Tsingtao.

Japanese discounted Chinese claims of successes, asserting the Japanese completely dominate Shantung province and were encircling 100,000 Chinese in the Lini sector.

The Japanese army announced mopping up operations in the Lake Tai area, west of Shanghai, had been completed and that more than 3,000 Chinese troops had been killed.

Chinese dispatches said Shansi province towns, including Chaoshen and Hsuehsien, were recaptured. Chinese guerrilla troops in north Honan province reported killing 3,000 Japanese, capturing 800 and taking 62 trucks and seven armored cars.

Order Examination In Death Of Panda

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—A minute examination of the giant panda quarters at Brookfield zoo was ordered today as a result of the death yesterday of Su-Lin, from a mysterious ailment.

The black and white teddy bear at first was believed to have died of a throat infection after choking on an oak twig Sunday. A post mortem examination showed the scratch in her throat was insignificant and caused no infection that might have brought death.

Edward Bean, zoo director, said other vital organs appeared sound.

Labor Saver

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—Here's one for you moderns—What is a strawberry barrel? Answer: Great-Grandma's labor-saving vegetable garden. A sample one at the 12th annual Chicago flower show, which today opened its several miles of exhibits at the Navy Pier, was an object of much attention.

The strawberry barrel is a wooden barrel in which large-sized round holes have been drilled in the staves. The barrel is filled with dirt and strawberries planted on top and in each of the holes.

The idea conserved the pioneer wife's footsteps and elbow effort in drawing well-water to sprinkle the garden—to say nothing of walking and stooping when it came picking time.

MAY ATTEMPT TO SAVE ASSEMBLY PARK AS RESORT

A plan to save Assembly Park for public use and to expand the property into an outstanding summer resort, will be outlined to stockholders in the corporation to be held at the Elks club in this city at 1:30 P. M. next Friday.

and on their decision will depend the fate of the property—whether it shall be salvaged or the receivers be allowed to sell it at auction. The fine property on the north bank of the river is now under foreclosure and may soon cease to be open for public use unless plans to save it are adopted.

The proposal to be submitted to the stockholders at next Friday's meeting is said to provide that the park shall be self sustaining and contemplates making it a real summer resort for northern Illinois, with the swimming beach improved, the driveways put in good condition and the hotel and other park property reconstructed.

634,885 PERSONS ON STATE RELIEF ROLE IN FEBRUARY

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—The 634,885 persons receiving relief in Illinois during February constituted the greatest number since the large-scale transfer of WPA employment was completed early in 1936, the Illinois emergency relief commission's monthly bulletin revealed today.

The total approximated one in every 12 persons in the 1930 population.

An increase of 13,300 from the January relief rolls was the smallest gain in three months, chiefly because of increased employment on WPA projects, which the commission said offset the large number of cases opened.

The portion of the population receiving relief in February ranged from 13 per cent in Richland county to 22.8 per cent in Hardin county. Seventy-four counties showed increases in the number of home cases for the month, two no change and 26 decreases.

All counts of persons and cases represent the total number of different persons and cases receiving material relief at some time during the month under the general relief program. WPA workers and pension recipients were not included unless they received supplementary aid from general relief funds.

Thomas W. Jasper Died Last Evening

Thomas Wiley Jasper passed away at 7:30 last evening at his home, 617 Ottawa avenue, his death resulting from a stroke of paralysis which he suffered some time ago. He was born at Mintonville, Ky., March 2, 1869, and had been a resident of Dixon for the past 22 years. He is survived by his widow, one son, W. B. Jasper, of Whittier, Calif.; three grandsons, Marion and Woodrow Jasper of this city, and Thomas Jasper of Whittier, Calif., and one great-grandson. Funeral services will be conducted from the Preston funeral home Monday morning at 10 o'clock with interment in Prairie Rest cemetery at Ambloy.

Retired Official of Harvester Company Is One of Serum Victims

Orlando, Fla., April 2—(AP)—E. F. Boile, 70, retired vice president of the International Harvester Company, died today, increasing to 10 the number of deaths among a group of persons given injections of a serum for treatment of cancer.

Boile, who came here from North Dakota, succumbed while investigators of various agencies worked intensively to determine what caused the deaths. Eight of the previous victims were women.

Dr. W. G. Workman of the United States Public Health Service indicated the results of autopsies and analysis of the serum would be known shortly.

Meanwhile, four women were in a hospital with the same symptoms as those who died. Their condition was not critical, although anti-tetanus treatment was having little effect.

Physicians said the symptoms were similar to those of tetanus (lockjaw) except in the lack of reaction to treatment.

Dr. T. A. Neal said 13 of those affected had been given injections at his clinic from a single bottle of serum. He first said the serum was made at Kingston, Canada. Yesterday he declared he discovered he had used a serum made in Philadelphia.

SERVICE GOES ON IN SPITE OF PLANT SEIZURE

C. I. O. Employees At Jackson Causing Disturbance

Jackson, Mich., April 2—(AP)—Electric and gas service continued without interruption today despite seizure of six strategic plants of the Consumers Power company in southern Michigan by employees belonging to a Committee for Industrial Organization union.

The employees, members of the utility workers' organizing committee, peacefully took possession of the plants last night after negotiations with the management for renewing their contract were terminated.

The company said the union demands included upward revision of wages; the union said it sought assurance there would be no reduction in wages.

Conference Called

Gov. Frank Murphy, concluding a Florida vacation, upon being notified of the situation, called representatives of the company and the U. W. O. C. to meet with him in Detroit Monday morning.

"We will conduct the strike," said Albert Stankus, U. W. O. C. national director, "so that the consuming public will suffer no inconvenience, at least until every means has been exhausted to settle it."

Stankus promised there would be no interruption of service for the 350,000 power customers, "not at least, until we have a conference with Governor Murphy."

The union took over a hydro-electric plant at Milwaukee, near Saginaw; two electric sub-stations in Flint and one in Bay City, and gas plants at Flint and Lansing.

Harold Best Case Considered Closed

La Crosse, Wis., April 2—(AP)—County Judge Roy V. Ahlstrom held today the case of Harold Best was "closed as far as the public is concerned," and said there would be no official announcement of its disposition.

Harold, who was 16 Thursday, was discharged from custody in Crawford county last week after a juvenile court jury failed to agree in a delinquency case based on the slaying of Harold's sister, Mildred, at their Soldiers Grove farm home June 4.

The boy was remanded to the custody of La Crosse county probation officials in whose care he was placed after his parents' divorce several years ago.

Judge Ahlstrom's announcement followed a closed session of juvenile court. Harold, meanwhile, remained in the La Crosse detention home.

Hearing On Liquor Permit Suspension Set Next Tuesday

Washington, April 2—(AP)—A hearing on proceedings for suspension of rectifier's and distiller's permits issued to the Arrow Distilleries, Inc., of Peoria, Ill., was set for Tuesday at Fulton, Ky., by the Federal Alcohol Administration.

Attorneys for the FAA said they planned to hold other hearings at Peoria and Des Moines, Iowa, with Des Moines the next stop after Fulton.

The Arrow company was charged by the FAA with falsifying records by making entries showing sales to firms in Kentucky when the products actually were billed for Iowa and Minnesota.

President Gives Some Ground in Battle for His Dictatorship Bill

Is Willing To Allow Congress To Override His Moves

Washington, April 2—(AP)—Administration leaders agreed today to a compromise—reliably reported to have President Roosevelt's approval—on the government reorganization bill.

Rep. Warren (D-NC) announced in the chamber that the special house reorganization committee would accept an amendment permitting congress to overrule presidential reorganization orders by a simple majority.

As the bill now stands a two-thirds majority of both houses would be required to block transfer of bureaus ordered by the chief executive.

Warren said the committee also would sponsor an amendment assuring that he office of education would remain in the interior department and not be transferred to a proposed new department of welfare.

Loud applause in which both Democrats and Republicans joined greeted Warren's announcement which, it was learned, followed a telephone conversation between house leaders and the president, now vacationing at Warm Springs, Ga.

Earlier, administration leaders abandoned efforts, for the day at least, to impose restrictions on house discussion of the bill.

Opponents denounced Warren opened his remarks with a denunciation of the bill's opponents. He accused them of dilatory tactics which he said consumed time that might have been used for constructive debate.

The North Carolinian also referred to the deluge of telegrams and letters members of congress have received on the reorganization measure.

"Propagandists," he asserted, "have been going to every length and extreme as a vehicle to annihilate and destroy our President."

With reference to the education amendment, Warren said: "A vile, malicious whispering campaign has surged against the country to arouse and disturb a great church. To the eternal credit of some of the outstanding members of this House who belong to this great church, this damnable propaganda has had no effect whatever."

Campaign Assailed "The word education in section 5 of the bill has been portrayed as meaning Federal control over education. Every one knows who is fair, every one knows who desires to be honest and straight forward that under no stretch of the imagination could those words have that effect."

At that point, Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), a Catholic, stepped down from the speaker's chair—he had been presiding—into the aisle what he called this "vicious campaign based upon hatred."

"If there is no thing I have contempt for," he said, "it is intolerance in any form."

He added that the question of Federal control had been "injected with malice" into the discussion of the legislation.

Turning to the broader question of reorganization, McCormack said if any revamping of the government were to be accomplished "there has got to be some delegation of power."

He declared Congress could not do the job itself "because then the old gerrymandering goes on, the old trades are negotiated."

"From the practical standpoint," he said, "there must be some delegation of power somewhere and that can only be to the President of the United States whose constituency is the entire country."

Opponents Force Rollcalls Warren's announcement was delayed first by a quorum call and then by a roll call on whether to resume consideration of the bill. Both the quorum call and the roll call were forced by opponents of the measure.

In between the two, Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) of the rules committee, moved unsuccessfully that the bill be killed by tabling.

On the roll call, the house for the third day voted to take up the bill for debate. Today's vote was 207 to 150.

Speaker Bankhead announced the house would have a full and fair opportunity "to work its will" on the measure and that no further motion to close debate would be made during the day's session.

Bankhead's announcement, made at his press conference, was accompanied by his prediction that the bill eventually would be passed by the house despite the flood of telegrams and letters to members against it.

Delaying Maneuvers Before the house convened, key Republicans met with Snell of New York, their leader, to discuss strategy for fighting the bill. They did not disclose their plans. Opponents

Fled Her Nest

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—To Mrs. Mildred Plunkett, 24, it seemed highly irregular for chickens and dogs to be roaming about one's bedroom. In her suit for separate maintenance, Mrs. Plunkett alleged her husband, Haldane, 44, kept a flock of chickens and eight dogs in their bedroom.

"It got so that my client seemed to hear dogs snarling and chickens cheeping even when there weren't any around," explained her attorney. Finally, he added, she packed up and left her well-feathered nest.

OWNER OF AUTO LICENSE NUMBER 347-906 WINNER

The driver of a brown Pontiac sedan bearing the number 347-906 Illinois, 1938, is entitled to this week's $5 award for careful and courteous driving offered by the Chicago Motor Club and the Dixon Evening Telegraph. If the aforementioned driver will come to the Evening Telegraph office and identify himself his check awaits him. This driver used unusual caution and care in crossing a downtown street intersection about 1:10 o'clock this afternoon.

It is not so easy to find examples of outstanding courtesy and care in driving. Too many of us depend upon our auto horn and the pedestrian's nimble legs to avoid our accidents. The driver who does not sail across intersections when there seems to be the slightest chance (unless it is a stop street, and sometimes regardless of that) is an exception.

The Chicago Motor Club—Evening Telegraph campaign is for twelve weeks duration.

Britain Recognizes Austrian Anschluss

Shanghai, April 2—(AP)—General Shunroku Hata today rejected British protests against reported Japanese threats and discourtesies to British nationals.

General Hata, commander of Japanese troops in Central China, denied that Japanese soldiers had been guilty of offensive acts charged by General A. F. D. Telfers-Smollet, commander of British forces at Shanghai.

The Japanese commander said Japanese military authorities deeply regretted General Telfers-Smollet's "discourteous attitude" in protesting upon "one-sided, unverified reports, and characterized the British protest as "not friendly."

The British had cited several instances in which Japanese soldiers were alleged to have threatened or been discourteous to British soldiers or civilians.

One case cited was that of British sentries, who, on two occasions, were said to have been threatened with rifles by Japanese military police.

Temblor Shakes New Hampshire; Rattles Dishes

Rochester, N. H., April 2—(AP)—An earthquake which shook houses, rattled dishes and in some communities within a 10-mile radius of Rochester sounded like an "explosion" was dismissed by scientists today as a "very weak" earth movement of only 15 seconds' duration.

Mrs. Helen Piper, Rochester telephone operator, said a "rumbling sound" preceded what seemed to be an explosion. She and other Rochester residents said buildings shook. In South Lebanon, Maine, across the Salmon Falls river from Rochester, housewives reported pictures were knocked from the walls.

POSTPONEMENT DENIED

Washington, April 2—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission denied a plea for a six-months postponement of hearings in the Chicago & Northwestern railroad reorganization proceedings.

Protective committee representing common stockholders wanted the six-month delay to give further time for studying feasibility of merging the railroad with the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific railroad.

Petition Bearing Name of Mother Seeks the Release of Al Capone

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—A habeas corpus petition seeking the release of gang lord, Al Capone, from Alcatraz prison was filed today in the United States district court.

Attorney Abraham Teitelbaum, who filed the petition, served notice on the district attorney's office that he would appear Monday before Federal Judge William H. Holly to press his action. Teitelbaum informed the district attorney he would seek a hearing on the petition April 8 and ask that Capone be brought to Chicago for a full hearing April 15.

Capone was sentenced in 1931 to serve 11 years, including one year in the county jail, on charges of income tax evasion.

TORNADO RUINS BEING CLEARED AT SOUTH PEKIN

Death Toll Stands At 14 As Another Died Today

Pekin, Ill., April 2—(AP)—Victims of the mid-week tornado in central Illinois rushed the dreary task of rehabilitation today.

For many, particularly residents of South Pekin, the task seemed insurmountable as they viewed the debris to which comfortable homes and business buildings had been reduced.

Meanwhile, the toll of dead rose to 14 when Mrs. Harry Jones of South Pekin succumbed to injuries in the Pekin hospital. She was South Pekin's ninth victim and Tazewell county's 11th. Her death was the second in the last 12 hours.

An announcement that the Chicago and North Western railway company would rebuild its shop offered a measure of comfort to many South Pekin residents who depended upon them for a livelihood.

C. T. Dike, a vice president of the road, estimated the damage to railroad property at $100,000. Rebuilding was underway, he said.

Physicians continued inoculation of all persons, in accordance with orders from the state health department. Dr. Sanford Horwitz of the department ordered warning

Sightseers

South Pekin, Ill., April 2—(AP)—Sheriff Ralph C. Goar said today he would permit sightseers to visit this tornado-wrecked community this afternoon and tomorrow. He said he had received scores of requests from all parts of central Illinois.

From noon to 5 P. M. today and from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. tomorrow visitors will be permitted to drive automobiles down the main street but will not be allowed to stop nor leave the single street, Goar said.

signs posted at wells to help prevent outbreaks of typhoid and small pox from polluted water.

The death toll increased to 14 late yesterday when Mrs. John Brunner of Tremont, died in a Peoria hospital. Her back was broken when the destructive winds swept her car from the highway between Tremont and Morton.

U. S. Senator William H. Dieterich, who spoke last night at a postoffice dedication at Morton, visited the South Pekin disaster zone today in company with James McElwee, Peoria WPA administrator and J. M. Power, Red Cross reliever director.

Dieterich commended the Red Cross relief program but made no comment on the possibility of federal aid in rebuilding the stricken town.

L. C. Mochell, Tazewell county Red Cross disaster chairman, said $3,000 in relief contributions had been made by residents of this county alone toward its quota of $15,000 and that there was no immediate food shortage.

Hundreds were fed from a kitchen set up in the South Pekin community building.

FOOD SENT TO ZONE

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—The Illinois emergency relief commission said today it had consigned large quantities of food to the Illinois tornado zone to aid an estimated 2,500 persons made homeless by the mid-week storms.

Leo M. Lyons, IERC executive secretary, said the bulk of the consignment went to South Pekin in Tazewell county, hub of the seven county tornado-stricken area.

Dispatched from the Peoria commodity depot of the federal surplus commodities corp., Lyons said the foodstuffs turned over to the Red Cross for distribution included the following volumes, in pounds: Rice, 800; oranges, 3,000; butter, 260; potatoes, 1,000; dried apples 100; dried peaches, 150; and 1,000 cans of evaporated milk.

Food supplies of the surplus commodities corporation ordinarily are limited to families on relief, but an exception was made in this case, Lyons' statement said.

HEATING

In the Low Cost House

In the heating of low-priced houses there exist three essential factors which affect the selection of the heating system, but also to a marked degree control the design of the dwelling. There three factors are first, adequate capacity as related to the climatic conditions; second, proper relation of the heating plant design to the house design; and third, the use of an economical fuel.

In selecting a heating plant it is advisable to install a plant that will be at least 20 per cent over the actual heating load as calculated from the heat losses in the building. If the main heating plant also provides domestic hot water, this load must be added to the calculated heat loss of the building before the 20 per cent is added.

The size of heating plant will probably be reduced if insulation is used. Consideration must also be given to proper relation between the climatic zone and the type of heating equipment selected.

At the present time two methods of heating for the small house seem to be most desirable: First, warm air systems and second, hot water systems. A warm air system has the advantage, if properly located of central location and a minimum of duct work and an economical installation.

As a warm air system requires no plumbing, it has flexibility and is advantageous if a dwelling is not occupied constantly, because freezing weather has no effect on the system.

A hot water system, on the other hand, requires a boiler which may be quite successful in small houses. The system permits of radiators in several rooms providing a positive heat effect in each room.

Other systems providing forced circulation of warm air or using a hot water or steam boiler with an indirect winter air conditioner may be installed and will of course provide very desirable heating characteristics such as control of temperature and humidity, filtered air and automatic operation.

SHRUB PROTECTION

When you enter your flower garden and examine the shrubs this spring, you are quite likely to discover that the shrubs and especially the bridal wreath, are covered with little green bugs. They are sometimes so thick that they pile up on one another in layers. They arrange themselves in rows and are practically standing on their heads.

These insects are known as plant lice or aphids. Every one of these tiny insects has a little snout like a mosquito and their food is secured by suction, much after the manner in which a mosquito draws blood from the body. The aphids, however, draws the sap from the plant.

It is easy to kill these aphids. They should be sprayed with a mixture of nicotine and soap. There are a number of solutions on the market which may be purchased and mixed with suds to overcome the inroads of this destructive insect.

Up-to-Date Bathroom

This bathroom is a splendid example of the modern type of bath. Three of the walls are of pale green and the fourth, as the illustration shows, is of black vitrolite. Against these walls have been set soft pink plumbing fixtures. The floor is of linoleum in shades of brown—a light tan, shading into a dark brown—with a mottled finish.

A SMALL BATHROOM

In Most Homes Space Can Be Found for the Extra Bath

One of the most serious deficiencies of many of the older houses is the lack of an adequate number of bathrooms. If there are children of school age who must be on time to school, a father who has definite office hours, the problem of bathroom congestion is likely to be one of the foremost topics for discussion in the family council.

Too often the decision is in favor of the older folk and adverse to the children. Someone has to be given precedence.

It is unfortunate and unnecessary to disturb the family harmony because there are not enough bathrooms in the house. There are other and more satisfactory ways in which this problem may be solved. In most homes it is possible to find a place for additional bathroom. There may be a spare bedroom that could be utilized, or a closet that is big enough to accommodate at least a lavatory and closet combination. If there isn't enough room for a tub, a shower may be installed in a water-tight compartment.

Many persons have been needlessly depriving themselves of the conveniences of additional bathroom facilities because they have the impression that a bathroom must be large. If necessary, all the three essential bathroom fixtures can be placed in a room as small as 5x5'. Bathtubs are made in a variety of sizes. Some are only 43" long. 60" and 66" are popular sizes for both small and large bathrooms. With a 60" tub fitting into the end of a room 5' wide, the other two fixtures can be easily arranged opposite each other in the rest of the space. There is ample room for a commodious medicine cabinet in the wall.

In fact, a 5x5' bath may be as colorful and as charming as a larger room. The lavatory, of course should be of the wall hung type. There are many styles and sizes and it need not project far into the room.

The home owner who wishes an extra bathroom but finds himself puzzled as to just where it can be worked in should call an experienced architect or plumbing contractor for advice. A man who understands plumbing can suggest a convenient location for bathroom fixtures that the home owner himself might not think of.

If there is no space at all available for a complete bathroom, there are various alternatives that present themselves.

1. A downstairs lavatory in the hall, hall closet, or some room near the hall;
2. A lavatory in the kitchen;
3. A lavatory in a bedroom;
4. An additional lavatory in the present bathroom;
5. A shower in the basement.

Birthday of Mrs. Thompson Honored By Polo Friends

A delightful time was experienced at the home of Rev. and Mrs. William E. Thompson yesterday, when a group of polo friends came in to celebrate Mrs. Thompson's birthday. The happy group came about 11 o'clock with well-filled baskets of good things to eat, merry hearts, smiles and hearty hand shakes as they joined in wishing Mrs. Thompson a happy birthday.

As the group visited together talking of the years when the Thompsons were in Polo where they served as pastor of the Brethren church for seven years, the time passed quickly.

At noon a picnic dinner was served and the fellowship coupled with the delicious dinner made the dinner hour a happy one. Several birthday cakes in honor of Mrs. Thompson were served.

Albert Gilbert spoke for the group as he told of the high esteem in which Mrs. Thompson was held and how they appreciated the opportunity of spending the day in her home in celebrating her birthday and then presented her with a purse from the group with their compliments and good wishes. She was instructed to use the purse to buy herself a birthday present.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gilbert, Mrs. Hattie Brown, Mrs. John Lampin, Mrs. Anna Osterhoudt, Mrs. Roy Rowand, Mr. and Mrs. David Boley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. Emeline Landis, and Mrs. Kate Gilbert.

April Fool's Day Program Enjoyed

Mothers and students of the Preston school of which Mrs. William Finch of this city is the teacher, enjoyed their annual April Fool's day celebration at the school yesterday. This event is anticipated for many weeks by both students and guests. On this occasion an exhibit of industrial art work which has been an outstanding project of the school curriculum, held the attention of the many visitors who enjoyed the occasion. The exhibit consisted of woodwork, sewing and other arts developed by the students and the display bespoke the precision and care with which the exhibits had been prepared.

Mrs. Finch provided an excellent program of entertainment for the afternoon, when the mothers became the students and the children, the guests. There was a program of games and stunts for which highly attractive prizes were awarded, but upon receipt and inspection, the prize winners were apprised of the date, April Fool. The teacher had built the entire program to suit the date of the entertainment and each guest was the recipient of a souvenir which had been the handiwork of the school students. The guests spent a most enjoyable afternoon and upon their departure highly commended Mrs. Finch for the delightful program and unique entertainment, as well as the students, who through their cooperation with the teacher, provided the successful entertainment which is an annual feature in the school.

School Friends of Floyd Smith, Jr. Honor His Birthday

Miss "Dot" Stitzel of Nelson assisted by Miss Rose Bevilacqua, entertained 24 of her senior and junior classmates of Dixon high school at the Nelson town hall last evening in honor of Floyd Smith, Jr., who will celebrate his birthday April 7. The hall was charmingly decorated in the school colors—purple and white, and a beautiful and very tasteful birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Louis Bevilacqua and decorated by Mrs. Ben Vieth, was the center of attraction, especially when refreshments were served. The evening was spent in dancing to radio music.

Presentation of a radio receiver to the guest of honor was the occasion of much merriment, for it followed perpetration of an April Fool joke, which caused Floyd to deliver through a multitude of boxes to find a 10 cent gift, turning from which he found the radio set behind him awaiting his joyous reception.

HOUSE GUEST

Mrs. Fred Dimick will be the guest of Mrs. H. U. Bardwell next week.

SADDENED FELIX CONVINCED GOLF HAS NO JUSTICE

Augusta, Ga., April 2—(AP)—Saddened of all fairway bills in the land today was Felix Serafin, the white-capped golfer from Scranton, Pa. Felix was convinced there was no justice in the world, especially in golf.

As one of the longest shots in a 44-man field, Felix opened his play in the fifth Augusta national invitational championship yesterday with the customary 14 clubs in his bag, a bumping heart and a belief that all men, including golfers, are born equal.

As it began to rain—it always does here when the national is played—Felix pulled his white cap over his floppy ears and went hog wild. He shot the first nine holes in 32, four under par, and prayed for more rain.

Misfortune came
It was when Felix was praying the hardest that misfortune overtook him. The tournament officials decided it was raining far too hard. So they postponed the tournament and cancelled all scores, ordering a revision whereby the first round of 18 holes will be played today with 36 on Sunday and the final 18 Monday.

"But I'm going wild and I love the rain," hollered Felix. "Why, the folks up north often call me 'Rain-in-the-Face Felix' because I go so good in the rain."

But Felix had to join the "softies" and now must start over again with about as rosy prospects of shooting another starting 32 as he has of succeeding Byron Nelson as champion of Bobby Jones' annual coming out golf.

The Field of the Cloth of Gold was the scene of an interview between Henry VIII of England and Francois I of France.

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

A doctor who has been forced to perform an operation on a wounded gangster was attacked by members of the gang sometime after the operation, because he had done his duty as a law-abiding citizen and given information to the police. The attack took place one day under a quiet and little used viaduct as he was walking toward his office. His injuries were not serious but painful. He again went to the police and told them that he had been slugged and knocked unconscious. It was important to them to discover exactly what time the incident took place. The doctor said, "I remember hearing the tower clock strike one just as I returned to consciousness. I lay too weak to move for some time and while there I heard the clock strike one three times more at half-hour intervals. That clock you know, strikes one on each half-hour. So all in all, I heard it strike one four times. According to that I returned to consciousness at exactly—"

At just what time did the doctor return to consciousness?

Belvidere Strike Employees Vote On Settlement Terms

Belvidere, Ill., April 2—(AP)—Terms for proposed settlement of a strike at the National Sewing Machine Company plant were placed before striking employees for a vote today.

Carl Baylander, general chairman of the strikers, said voting would begin at 1 P. M. on a compromise offer by the company.

Terms of the offer, he said, included: Upward adjustment of wages, a 45-hour week, seniority rights and an open shop.

Details of the proposed wage adjustment were not divulged. Baylander said the strikers had been working 50 hours a week and had asked for a 40-hour week.

American Federation of Labor machinists, polishers and molders walked out on strike at the plant on March 14. Five persons were injured Tuesday in a clash between pickets and police.

PREVIEW OF '39 WORLD'S FAIR IN N. Y. NEXT MONTH

Will Emphasize Value of Exposition and Its Wonders

High-lights of the dramatic preview of the New York 1939 World's Fair to take place in New York City on April 30, 1938, exactly one year before the official opening of the exposition, were received here by George B. Fluhr, vice president of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company of this city, from the national headquarters of Gas Exhibits, Inc., in New York City. Gas Exhibits, Inc., is a cooperative, non-profit corporation organized by gas utility companies and manufacturers of gas appliances and equipment throughout the United States to conduct and manage the industry's participation in the fair.

The part the gas industry will play in the advance preview was also reported to the local executive. The preview will emphasize the value of the forthcoming fair to America, acquaint the public with the wonders that will be on view when the exposition opens, and extend an invitation to the world to attend the international exposition in 1939.

A fast-moving, entirely mechanized motorcade, with approximately 300 floats and as many other vehicles, will be seen by thousands as it traverses Manhattan's wide avenues and proceeds to the fair site. Many of the floats entered will be furnished by leading industrial and business organizations, among which will be Gas Exhibits, Inc., who at this date are planning on a specially designed float worthy of the industry's outstanding exhibit which is rapidly being constructed at the fair.

Colorful floats illustrating the many exhibits which will be free to the public at the exposition will be built by the fair. National advertisers' floats will be enlivened by personal appearances of world-famous radio stars. Local merchants will display the latest fashions on unique floats, while many outstanding singers and comedians will grace floats in the entertainment group. Hotels, labor organizations, and patriotic groups will also have floats. Guns, tanks, and similar motorized equipment will be displayed by a mechanized army division, and soldiers, sailors, marines, and other national detachments will ride in the parade in truck convoys. Foreign, national, state and city dignitaries will represent the world's officialdom.

Another parade forming in a different party of the city will include about 200,000 marchers and at least 100 bands.

6-Hour Program Planned

A six-hour program of ceremonies and entertainment features will be offered visitors at the preview celebration at the fair site. On the night of April 29, the Junior League of the City of New York will present the "Ball of Tomorrow" in the new administration building at the fair on the largest floor space ever used for a social function of this character. Music will be furnished by several famous orchestras.

Leading department stores will have unusual window displays tying in with the celebration, and colorful bunting flags will decorate hundreds of buildings and dress-up Manhattan's avenues.

Hotels and transportation lines are co-operating to insure comforts and conveniences for the thousands of visitors expected in New York from all over the country for the preview.

It is reported that during 1937 the United States Army Air Corps purchased more than 400 new planes in an effort to build the corps up by June, 1940, into its authorized strength of 2320 planes.

Mount Morris chapter of the Future Farmers of America held their annual banquet last evening in the high school gymnasium, at which they entertained their fathers and mothers, the high school faculty and wives and the members of the board.

HIGH RECORDS STILL LACKING IN A. B. C. MEET

Little Prospect Of Their Appearing 18 Days Remain

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—If the 1938 American Bowling Congress championship figures are to be record highs, as was generally predicted before the firing began, the high records had better begin to appear.

Eighteen days remain and it may be that by April 19 there will be new highs in every event; but some of the biggest of bowling's big shots have been at work on the Coliseum alleys lately and have done little in the way of making the wood fly.

Last night the defending team champions, the Krakow Furniture company of Detroit, abdicated. The Krakows are at the end of a bad season and were expected to bow out of the A. B. C. competition. But the Heils of Milwaukee were not expected to be so quiet on the A. B. C. alleys nor was Hank Mariano expected to average just 189 in his tournament appearances.

John Mihlsmmer of Milwaukee probably won the left-handed championship yesterday. He outpawped his way to a 696-total in the singles, landing in a tie for tenth. With a little luck he could have been fifth, or even fourth.

Mihlsmmer left the 2-7 pins standing in his last frame. They were too much for his left-handed delivery and he failed to pick off the pair. It was a costly miss, a difference of six places in the standing.

SOUTHERN FARMERS MAKE WAR ON MICE

Barnwell, S. C.—(AP)—Farmers in this section say country mice are just as bad as their city cousins, maybe worse.

One kind eats melon, cantaloupe and cucumber seed in the field before they can sprout. Another breed cut off the growing plants and cause the farmers no end of trouble.

The best remedy so far found is a poison mixed with cane syrup. It is used on old melon seed, grain, peanuts or small pieces of cheese and scattered around where the mice will eat it instead of the planted seed.

HORNER RENEWS HIS ATTACK ON BOSSISM TODAY

Governor Speaking In Several Factional Rallies

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—With a fresh assault of Democratic "bosses" Governor Horner returned to the forefront of the primary campaign in Chicago today while Michael L. Igoe hit back at the charge of payroll padding to aid his senatorial drive.

The governor, speaking at several factional rallies for ticket headed by Scott W. Lucas for Senator, claimed the voters were aroused and "so mad they can't wait for April 12 to kick the bosses out."

Repeatedly he referred by name to Mayor Edward J. Kelly and Patrick A. Nash, Chicago party leaders supporting Igoe.

U. S. Attorney Igoe made public reply to Congressman Lucas' demand that Igoe say whether he "subscribed to the hiring of 3,000 employees by the city and park district in the last two weeks entirely for election purposes." Said Igoe:

"I am not aware of any such condition in the public parks or any such purpose—and I don't believe my opponent is either. My opponent seeks to convey the public impression that 3,000 extra park employees are not needed at this time of the year when all of the units of the great Chicago parks system are preparing to open for the year and putting their grounds in shape for the summer."

"I am not aware of any such condition in the public parks or any such purpose—and I don't believe my opponent is either. My opponent seeks to convey the public impression that 3,000 extra park employees are not needed at this time of the year when all of the units of the great Chicago parks system are preparing to open for the year and putting their grounds in shape for the summer."

Administration leaders discussed today a proposal to make "employment" loans to selected railroads to spur industrial production and meet temporarily the rail finance problem.

Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash.), who advanced the suggestion, said he believed government money might be used more profitably on railroads than any other field to promote recovery.

Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) agreed. He said that replacements, repairs and improvements in all heavy industries now were lagging $5,000,000,000 a year behind previous peaks.

Schwellenbach estimated $1,000,000,000 might be required to finance such a railroad improvement program. He said it should be undertaken only in conjunction with a congressional pledge for a thorough study of the railroads' threatened bankruptcy aimed at finding a permanent solution by some definite date.

Schwellenbach's proposal was simple in terms but far-reaching in import.

The government would select, among competing lines, those which appeared the strongest financially and the "most logical" from the standpoint of traffic possibilities.

The RFC, or some other government agency to be set up, would lend these roads sufficient funds to establish their finances on a sound basis and put their facilities in first-class shape.

SPRING BRINGS BEST OUT OF THE WORST

Ah, spring—what you do to people, even such hardened guys as would take an 11-year-old shoeshine boy's outfit away from him.

It was "last winter" when little Joseph Bornino was working late in Chicago, a city which at times has mothered some rather unsocial characters. Joe wasn't doing so good, so when he saw three men come out of a tavern he beat it across the street to ask them how about a shine.

Now perhaps the three men had been too long in the tavern, or maybe they were just that kind of men, but anyhow they pushed Joseph in the face, grabbed his shine outfit, jumped in a car and departed the scene, laughing loudly at their deed.

It was the only outfit Joseph had and he of course was mighty unhappy. He went home and told his dad. His dad told the police. The police told the reporters. The reporters told Chicago. And pretty soon the whole town was just as indignant as Joseph Bornino.

But the first lush days of spring came on. Spring brings many things to many people. To one of the men who swiped Joseph Bornino's shine outfit it brought remorse. He walked into a neighborhood police station and confessed the crime. He called himself a bum and said that he was sorry about the way he acted. He told the police where they could find his accomplices. The police got them. One of the men's wives came leading her husband to the station.

It may have been spring's beneficent effects, or again it may have been that the culprits were just that kind of men, but they were awfully sorry also.

The desk sergeant had Joseph Bornino drop around. Joseph was kind of scared but he identified the men. Then the sergeant asked Joseph what he thought they ought to do with them. Joseph didn't know. The sergeant said maybe Joseph would like for them to buy him the classiest shine outfit to be found in Chicago. Joseph said that wouldn't be necessary. Folks around town had already sent him three outfits on account of that story in the newspapers.

Finally Joseph asked the sergeant if he couldn't go home. He had a ball game on. The sergeant said okay.

Then the law turned to the miscreants. He had been pretty sore at them but now they were sorry and anxious to reform and besides spring was in the sergeant. He told them all to go home.

So that is a simple little story and perhaps remarkable only for the fact that it probably couldn't have happened except during the first fragrant days of spring. Joseph Bornino was a lucky lad that he didn't get his shine outfit swiped, say, in mid-January.

The only thing wrong with spring is that it doesn't come often enough.

WAR'S CHILDREN

Twenty years ago, on July 25, 1918, the Germans were training their big guns on the French village of Saint en Goele. At the height of the bombardment, Mrs. Marie Marlot gave birth to triplets, all boys.

It is not difficult to imagine what were the mother's thoughts. And her prayers were certainly that her babies would not see another war.

But that was 20 years ago, and 20 years is time enough for nations to rebuild their war machines and prepare for their next blood-spilling.

Armies are still made up of men. So the other day Leon, Emile and Camille Marlot, entered the French military service. And some day soon the three youths may even be fighting for their country. And thus will one more European mother's prayers go unanswered.

INGRATE ELK

You can lead an elk to hay—and he will stay right there. He will lose his initiative and his rugged individualism. He will become too lazy to forage for himself.

That sad commentary on elk nature comes from Thomas J. Allen, Jr., regional director of the National Park Service, who now states that he and his men are unable to solve a problem created by their own kindness.

Last summer they grew some hay to give to the elk

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Whatever the reason, Roper is still hanging on and hanging his Department with him.

Sorry Mess

Under the secretaryship of Herbert Hoover, the Department of Commerce became one of the largest and most powerful branches of the Government. True, the much-wanted foreign exports which it promoted were largely financed by never-to-be-repaid foreign loans. But on the whole it was an efficient, and certainly a live organization.

Today, however, it is a shambles of incompetence, cheap politics, dissension and disorganization. It has no standing in the Administration, in Congress, with business men or with the public. When it is not being laughed at, it is being denounced.

This disgust reached such a pitch over Roper's mismanagement of the U. S. Shipping Board that the agency was taken away from him by Congress and transformed into the independent U. S. Maritime Commission. Recently, legislation was introduced to do the same thing with the Bureau of Air Commerce.

The record of the Air Bureau has been a disgrace from the day Roper took office. For a time it was run by a political appointee of Mrs. Roosevelt's, an ex-law partner of the late Senator Joe Robinson, and a close friend of the late Representative Buchanan of Texas, all bickering among themselves and letting air safety go to pot.

Now the present director, Fred D. Fag, a conscientious executive, is going to quit. Reason: Too much Roper political meddling.

Shipping Safety?

Roper's Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation has been equally, though less spectacularly, politics-ridden. The big ship operators could get almost anything they want from a steamboat inspector, and when two young men in the Bureau tried to clean out some of the "floating fire-traps" which ply the waters of New England and the South, they were promptly fired.

So inefficient have been Roper's various shipping officials that when the Nantucket Lightship was rammed by a British ocean liner, the lightship's life boats were too old for efficient use. Again, when the S. S. Iowa was sunk off the California coast, Roper suppressed the report on the cause of the wreck—did not mention the fact that the buoy supposed to guard ships was three miles away.

Roper even let the Dollar Steamship line get by without living up to full congressional requirements for interior sprinkling systems, to prevent fires such as that which wrecked the Morro Castle.

Thorough Bred

The chief trouble with Roper is that he thinks, lives and breathes politics. The oblique political approach is the way he looks at everything. He just does not understand any other line.

When he wanted to put his brother-in-law, Hugh McCall, on the Census payroll, Dan did not hesitate a minute about going to Representative Gasque of South Carolina, from whose district Roper's brother-in-law comes, and offer two jobs to Gasque's friends.

when the snow got so deep the animals couldn't root for themselves. Now that the hay is gone the elk refuse to leave the place where it was stacked. Moreover, they have become so fond of the easy life that they won't get out and get their own food and they expect the government to continue them on the hay dole. Allen and his men consider this attitude on the part of the elk very inconsiderate and ungrateful.

Apparently there is only one solution, and that is to get the elk on WPA.

If Gasque would ask that McCall be put on the Census.

The point is that Uncle Dan has spent some 45 years in the Government, beginning as the clerk of the Senate Inter-state Commerce Committee in 1893. He has been holding office almost ever since. He will never change.

Secretary Roper is one of Washington's foremost diners-out, and loves it. He has rather a pleasant personality, never loses his temper, and will go out of his way to be nice to an enemy.

But with the country needing an active Department of Commerce more than at any time in years, and with business men needing guidance, confidence and cooperation, it is nothing less than a tragedy that Daniel Calhoun Roper should continue as Secretary of Commerce. ## NAVY NEEDS FIVE YEARS TO BUILD HUGE WARSHIPS

Washington, April 2—(AP)—The navy hopes to start work before the end of the year on two of the super-size battleships contemplated with lifting of limits of the London treaty.

Officials announced, however, that months must elapse before a keel is laid, and probably five years will pass before the first of the mammoth warcraft goes to sea.

The newest battleships will be the most formidable, the costliest and probably the largest ever built. But beyond that statement, Navy officials held to the policy of silence they have followed while diplomats at London sought agreement on a new balance of seapower to meet a reported challenge from Japan.

President Roosevelt and the navy high command have yet to decide finally on the tonnage, speed, armor and guns of the new craft.

Since the treaty, however, provides that the United States, Great Britain and France should notify each other by April 30 of their construction plans for the year, details presumably will be ironed out this month.

Naval circles expect the two ships will be from 43,000 to 45,000 tons, armed probably with 12 16-inch guns.

Tokyo's refusal to disclose construction plans led the other powers yesterday to throw overboard the treaty limit of 35,000 tons.

AUTOS REDUCE COST

Tucson, Ariz.—(AP)—It doesn't cost as much to serve warrants in the great open spaces of Arizona these days, now that sheriff's deputies can use automobiles instead of horses to reach outlying localities.

Expenses of warrant serving in the old days would give modern budget makers a headache. In 1882, for instance, it cost Pima county $4,588 just for horses and mules to outfit a posse of 50 deputies to "execute warrants on certain Apache Indians" who had strayed from the San Carlos reservation.

The bill also included: horse and mule blankets and saddles, $644.44; beef, $53.22; hardware, $67.50; drugs, $65.50; wages of Indian scouts, $210; and canteens, $33.60.

COLD CASH

Tulsa, Okla.—(AP)—Police listed it as a "cold cash" robbery. Burglars took $300 hidden in the refrigerator at the store of T. T. Carey.

DOES IT ENCOURAGE OR DISCOURAGE STUDENTS TO LET THEM KNOW THEIR MARKS?
YOUR OPINION

The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea. (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1—

No doubt Mother Smith did increase these qualities by using them but beyond questions she inherited some sort of nervous and mental mechanisms that made it easy for the environment to turn her in those directions. Dr. E. A. Doll, psychologist, has measured "social competence", ability to stand on your own feet, help others and the like, in hundreds of families. Some have these qualities and some just don't have them. Looks like heredity has had its hand in the game, as usual. I want to tell you more about this heredity of social competence from time to time. It is truly remarkable how it hits some families and misses others.

Answer to Question No. 2—

2. There are 3,419,231 motives why women want to wear pretty things and look stylish and beautiful. I can't name quite all of them here but natural love of beautiful things, wanting to enjoy looking at themselves in the mirror, desire to feel they are "properly dressed," desire to outdo other women in general and some woman in particular, desire to please men in general and some man in particular are just a few of the more important ones.

Answer to Question No. 3—

3. This important problem has just had a new study by Dr. Paul J. Fay of DePauw University. He finds the following: "A" students do much better "B" students do worse; "C" students do slightly better. Very poor students do much better. Many colleges merely tell students "satisfactory," "unsatisfactory," or "failure." Dr. Fay finds it better in most cases to tell them their actual marks if you tell them anything. (Copyright, 1938, John P. Dille Co.)

CHOCOLATE BEANS BURNED TO RAISE THE PRICE
Washington—(AP)—Housewives may like their cocoa cheap but African Gold Coast farmers who raise it are mighty sore about present prices.

Cocoa has been the real "gold" of the Gold Coast until recently, says the National Geographic Society. In the 14th century Portuguese discoverers of the region, north of the equator, hoped real gold dust would be their reward. But the golden beans of the cacao tree, introduced from the Americas, proved more valuable than gold itself.

Now with prices running against them Gold Coast farmers are burning their chocolate crops by the ton. They expect it to make a difference in prices since almost 40 per cent of the world's chocolate comes from Gold Coast beans.

White Russians in North China are now closely organized under Japanese-sponsored "White Russian residence committees."

LOUIS SHELLS THOMAS INTO SUBMISSION

Knocks Him Cold in Fifth Round; Loser Down 6 Times

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—Brown Bomber Joe Louis, with another notch in his blazing fist, knocked out the only man ever to bring him down—Max Schmeling.

A slashing, fifth-round knockout last night of Harry Thomas, Louis' third successful heavyweight title defense since he won the crown last June, was "just another fight" to the youthful Detroit Negro.

"I'll go at Schmeling from the start and I know I can beat him," he said after the Thomas victory, the Bomber's 38th in 39 professional battles. "I been thinking of Schmeling ever since he knocked me out two years ago and I'll even things up."

A high percentage of the 10,493 spectators who paid $45,600 to watch the champion floor Thomas six times probably are of the opinion that Joe has an excellent chance of balancing his books with the German battler when they meet June 22.

For Louis did what Schmeling could not do to Thomas—knock him out for the count.

Schmeling, last December, had the courageous Thomas on the floor seven times but when the German was awarded a technical knockout victory late in the eighth round, Thomas was still on his feet.

Moves Fast To Win
Louis, 15 second before the end of the third stanza, made his lightning-fast move for victory.

He threw a terrific right hand smash which caught Thomas between the ear and temple, spinning the Minnesota completely around. Thomas, his eyes glassy, slid along the ropes, turned around and then sat down on a stool his manager, Nate Lewis, slid under him.

Louis, knowing the round was not over, looked bewildered as he stood in the center of the ring. Referee Davey Miller shook his finger at the timekeepers and argued with Thomas, a puzzled look on his face. Manager Lewis, known as the "bald eagle of the ring" pointed wildly at the clock—and then the bell rang.

Lewis apparently was under the impression the round had ended and that he had not heard the bell over the crowd's roar.

Louis cracked Thomas to the canvas four times in the fourth stanza. Thomas fought back gamely, occasionally landing wild rights. Thomas went down once for an eight count from a left hook, then staggered up and caught a barrage of lefts which left him groggy on hands and knees as the final count ended Louis, unmarked, loomed against the ropes.

Louis received $14,039, with Thomas getting $4,699. The weights were 202½ for Louis, 196 for Thomas.

Two New Indoor Skating Records; National Races

Chicago April 2—(AP)—Two new indoor records were on the books today as the field in the national indoor skating championships turned the halfway mark in the two-day competition.

Twelve-year-old Allen Sprosty of Lakewood, Ohio, became the new holder of the juvenile half-mile mark last night by bettering the time of 1:38 set by Don Johnson of St. Paul in 1936. The youngest's best time, 1:34, came in the finals.

Madeline Horn of Beaver Dam, Wis., established a new mark in the senior women's mile, flashing over the distance in 3:15.6, one tenth of a second better than record set by Dot Franey of St. Paul in 1936.

Chicago, paced by Vic Ronchetti and Leo Freisinger, led the team scoring with 330 points. Cleveland was next with 280, followed by Wisconsin with 90 and New York and Missouri with 30 points each.

BATHROOMS SERVE AS RENTAL FEATURE

The importance of bathrooms and kitchens as rental features is shown by the attention being given them by owners and managers in the modernization of apartment houses. Modernization of properties may be effected through the Federal Housing Administration program.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 2—(AP)—The 36th annual women's North and South golf tournament became an all-southern affair today as Jane Cochran of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Dorothy Kirby, Atlanta, Ga., schoolgirl, fought for the title.

Miss Cochran advanced to the final yesterday with a 3 and 2 victory over Jean Bauer of Providence R. I. Miss Kirby beat Virginia Guilfoili, the Syracuse, N. Y., co-ed, by the same score.

He was born on the Isle of Man and had served congregations in Monmouth, Kansas and Canton. The funeral will be held Monday at Chenoa, with burial at Hoopeston.

New York's first elevated railway was opened in 1868.

FROSH SHOW PROMISE OF ILLINI FAME

Zupke Will Close Spring Practice This Week

Champaign, Ill., April 2—Freshman football players at the University of Illinois have a lot to learn but show promise in the opinion of Coach Bob Zupke who brings spring practice to a close this week.

Practice, which began early in February, usually continues until the Easter recess but Zupke decided the candidates had had a long enough stretch. With better weather conditions than usual the coach felt that the practice on the whole had been satisfactory and that the youngsters had profited by the drills.

As Zupke sees the outlook, Illinois probably will have an experienced line from tackle to tackle but the ends will be weaker. The backfield probably will be improved provided the freshmen backs develop as he hoped.

Some Frosh Good
Some freshmen were unable to report consistently enough to be sized up but the following were among those who attracted attention:

Linemen—John Sikich, Leonard Yonaites, Chicago; Eugene Blades, St. Louis; Bob Cherry, Girard; Walden Ingle, Champaign; John Hartley, Crawfordville, Ind.; Albert Helsing, Kewanee; Leroy Harrison, Alton; Landis Hurley, Farmer City; Carl Hamilton, Moline; Thomas J. Riggs, Huntington, W. Va.; Robert Thomases, New York City; F. A. Buehler, Whiting, Ind.; R. R. McMillin, Arcola.

Ends—George Bernhard, Chicago; Duane Fritz, Springfield; Herbert Young, Millville, N. J. Quarterback—James Phillips, Woodstock. Backs—Cliff Peterson, Moline; Charles Purvis, Glenview, Ga.; Donald Pringle, Riverside; David McDonough, Elgin; Wilson R. Schwenk, St. Louis, Mo.

Among squadmen from last year who showed improvement were Wesley Martin, Indianapolis, guard; John Thistlewood, Cairo, halfback; and Ralph Hathaway, Dayton, O., end.

Brewer Made Good
One interesting development was the use of Mel Brewer, who made good as a sophomore guard last year. Zupke worked the Carbonado boy at quarterback where his blocking ability is expected to be of great value. If satisfactory guards are found, it is possible that Brewer will remain at quarterback.

Ralph Ehni, Pekin, regarded as one of the best state backs, was injured early last fall and probably will be operated on during the Easter recess, the hope being that he will be available next fall.

Peterson, the Moline flash, apparently is destined to get his chance at left halfback. Chuck Purvis, who won his football letter at Purdue before transferring to Illinois, will be contender for the backfield. Bud Schwenk, from Beaumont high school, St. Louis, is groomed for a fullback post.

Annual State Prep Track Meet Booked May 21 This Year

Urbana, Ill., April 2—For the first time in many years the finals of the annual state interscholastic track and field meet which will be held at the University of Illinois May 21 will be held in the afternoon instead of the forenoon.

The time of the classic prep meet has been set to begin at 1 o'clock by the Illinois State High School Athletic association instead of 10 o'clock in the morning as before.

The change is an experiment to determine if attendance will benefit. The traditional interscholastic baseball game will be played by Illinois against Northwestern at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

As usual the interscholastic preliminaries will be run off Friday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock.

New Trier Cinder Team Defends Its Track Title Today

Chicago, April 2—(AP)—New Trier of Winnetka will defend its title today in the eighth annual Oak Park high school invitational relay and track meet. Entries from outside the Chicago and suburban area included Rockford, Joliet and Elgin. Finals in each event will be held tonight.

IN SPRING TRAINING CAMPS

Activities of Major League Teams in the South and West Prior to Opening of Baseball Season

By The Associated Press
Bradenton, Fla.—Casey Stengel is beaming and that April foolish victory over the Dodgers is not the only reason. Casey, who has been crying for baseballs since he took over the Boston Bees, boasts his club has totaled 65 in the last six games.

Lake Charles, La.—Burgess Whitehead, the New York Giants' second baseman who missed all the training season at Baton Rouge because of his slow recovery from an appendicitis operation, brought his doctor along when he reported.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—Jimmy Wilson can find one sign of improvement in his light-hitting Phillies as they come up to today's clash with Memphis. George Scherbin, who hit only .241 last season, is connecting often.

Bradenton, Fla.—General Manager Larry MacPhail of the Dodgers wants to discourage any talk of Brooklyn's finishing in the first division. "We have a better ball club than last year," he said, "but otherwise there are too many ifs."

Atlanta, Ga.—The Philadelphia Athletics, who had fine weather for their early workouts at Lake Charles, La., are hoping they'll find it again as they come here for a five-game series with the Atlanta Crackers.

Orlando, Fla.—Catcher Rick Ferrell wasn't at all pleased when Manager Bucky Harris relegated him to eighth place in the Washington batting order, but he was quick to find solace. "I'm the best eighth-place hitter in the league," Rick declared.

New Orleans.—The New York Yankees seem to be trying to prove they're not entirely a team of sluggers, but sometimes they miss out. They pulled off three snappy double plays against Tallahassee yesterday and missed a triple play because Red Rolfe couldn't hold a hot liner, but George Selkirk batted into the Yankee habit of letting himself get picked off first base, spoiling their record for smartness.

On the Side

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up By AP Writer

By SID FEDER
(Fitch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz)

New York, April 2—Even before Judge Landis set shortstop Jimmy Webb free from the Cardinals, half a dozen big league clubs were after him. So don't be surprised if the Yankees, White Sox, Dodgers and a couple of others outbid each trying to land him.

The White Sox are supposed to be particularly interested since Luke Appling broke his leg. Ed Gharrity, who caught for Walter Johnson at Washington, has landed as manager at Eau Claire, (Wis.) in the Northern league.

Is Missouri readying another shakeup in its athletic administration? The tip is out that things will be popping around the Tiger campus before footballs fly.

Lou Ambers, the lightweight champ, is slated to headline the Kentucky Derby eve fight card at Louisville, unless the two raslin clubs that want the date can outbid the fight club that has picked Lou for the spot.

Mike Jacobs burned up the phone and telegraph wires to the coast the other day to tell Andy Hoffman to keep Maxie Baer in shape for a rush assignment.

Figure it out for yourself. Tip to the Big Ten: Watch out for Wisconsin next fall. Even Harry Stuhldreher threw his crying towel away after seeing his boys in spring practice.

And west coast constituents please copy they say all Jimmy Phelan needs at Washington is a center and he's ready to send his Huskies to the wars tomorrow. Unless Lou Finney starts to hit, Connie Mack figures on opening the season with old Mule Haas in right field for the Athletics.

Lippy Leo Durocher, fresh back from the "flu" will be laid up for 10 days more with a split right hand. Got it trying to field Gene Moore's hit in yesterday's game with the Bees. Roland MacKenzie, the golfer who came out of Colorado Springs five years back after three years of Walker

Sarasota, Fla.—Although Joe Cronin is chagrined over the Boston Red Sox' failure to get an even break against minor league opposition, he has found some consolation in the showing of Fritz Ostermueller. The southpaw pitched two-hit ball for five innings against Newark yesterday.

Lake Charles, La.—Jeff Heath, Cleveland rookie outfielder, was left behind in New Orleans when the Cleveland Indians broke camp for their exhibition tour with the New York Giants. Julius Solters, who just signed his contract, is due to report to the Tribe at Austin, Tex., Monday.

San Antonio, Tex.—The St. Louis Brown announced that another game with the Toledo American Association club had been arranged for April 7, replacing a contest with the Chicago Cubs, who couldn't arrange satisfactory train connections.

Tucson, Ariz.—Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox and Charley Grimm of the Cubs engaged in a "master-minding" bout as the Chicago clubs opened a two-day stand. Dykes decided to return Rip Radcliff to the outfield while Grimm planned to continue using the veteran Tony Lazzeri at second.

Taft, Calif.—Manager Pie Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates is working about his pitching but he can't complain about his hitters.

Lakeland, Fla.—Dizzy Dean, still complaining his arm isn't in perfect shape, was given another chance to try it out today. He was slated to share the mound duties against Detroit.

Tampa, Fla.—Lew Riggs, who didn't do so well last year, is tops again with the boss. Manager Bill McKechnie of Cincinnati let it be known he "wouldn't swap him for any third sacker in the National league."

Lakeland, Fla.—The current "hot" rumor in the Detroit camp is that the Tigers may trade Roxie Lawson, Ray Hayworth and Chet Laabs to the St. Louis Browns, for Harold Clift, hard-hitting third baseman.

Franklin Grove Completes Track, Field Schedule

April 5—Leaf River at Franklin Grove.

April 8—Lee Center at Lee Center.

April 22—Amboy at Amboy.

April 26—Lee Center and Stewart at Franklin Grove.

May 13—Tentative date for Green River Valley conference meet at DeKalb.

Amerks, Blackhawks Meet To Decide Who Will Enter Playoff

New York, April 2—(AP)—The New York Americans and Chicago Blackhawks, opponents of the hockey storm a year ago, meet at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night in the game that will decide which club goes into final round for the Stanley Cup against Toronto's hard-punching Maple Leafs.

Japanese are building a new celluloid factory in Tientsin, North China, which will use native Chinese cotton as raw material.

cupping, has quit as pro at Washington's Congressional club to go into the laundry business. "No foolin'..." said Hoffman, who already has his hands full with the Baer boys, is willing to lay 25 G's on the line for Chuck Crowell's contract.

Figures the coast heavy is a corner. "They've been singing the praises of Ed Gallagher for his Oklahoma A. & M. rasslers for years. But has anyone pointed out that five of the 24 place winners in the national intercollegiate were products of Art Griffith's grappling classes at Tulsa high school."

EIGHTY SCHOOLS ARE INVITED TO BRADFORD MEET

Entries Pouring in From Class A and B Teams Now

With information going out to 80 schools in the state and entry blanks being requested by approximately 20 others the annual Bradford relays are shaping up to be even larger than last year. Entries are already pouring in from the outstanding Class A and B schools. Galesburg in the Class A winner of that division a year ago will send a group of sprinters, distance men and hurdlers to defend their last year's championship. With possibility of Wright of East Moline, 140 discus thrower and Anders, Moline's all-state halfback attending, the meet will attract for the third year many state point winners. Andrus ran a 9.8 hundred on several occasions last year.

Toulon winner of class B last year will send one of the strongest squads in the history of their school. "Dave" Miller all-state halfback should be one of the best high hurdlers in this part of the state. With Bruning, 12 ft. pole vaulter, a sure point winner in the event Toulon should have little trouble retaining their championship.

With "Steel" Howard well known Peoria sports announcer handling the new high power loud speaking system and H. L. Hart of Purdue, former Big Ten high hurdle champion and present football and track coach of Monmouth college handling the starting and refereeing, the meet will be fully enjoyed by both spectators and athletes.

A battery of men have been raking, sweeping and rolling the cinder track for the past two weeks and by April 23 the Bradford track will do justice to the ability of these outstanding athletes. With medals, trophies and gold track shoes comparable to any awards given in the state the athletes will be awarded their endeavor.

Any coach desiring information and entry blanks write F. V. Wilcox athletic director, Bradford high school.

Methodist Church Lawn to be Given Some Landscaping

The leaders of the Dixon Methodist church were interested in knowing to what extent the building was being used, so a careful count was kept throughout the month of March and it was discovered that 6502 people used the building during that period. That is more than 200 people used the building every day during March.

This includes not only the use of the building on Sunday but throughout the week. As high as twenty meetings per week find accommodations in the church. A number of meetings of community interest have been held during the month. Two Scout troops meet weekly. Four choirs hold rehearsals every week. Many church school classes and the women's organizations make large use of the building.

Since the church has been newly decorated and a complete new lighting system installed it is not only more efficient but much more attractive. The official board is called together for a special meeting on Monday evening to plan some landscaping for the lawns.

Illinois Undertakes Modernization of Obsolete Highways

Springfield, Ill., April 2—(AP)—Public Works and Buildings Director F. Lynden Smith said today one-fourth of the federal funds available for road construction this year would be spent on modernization of old highways.

Of the $10,500,000 program now awaiting Federal approval, he said, about $2,233,000 has been designated for improvement of approximately 65 miles of "obsolete" highways.

Three highway and five railroad grade separations 53 miles high type pavement, eight miles of bituminous surfacing, 64 miles of gravel and 91 miles of grading and bridges are scheduled to come from the remaining $8,267,000.

The five grade separations are in addition to the Federal grade separation program of $2,650,000 which calls for 14 major projects. The state's secondary road program calls for approximately 138 miles of grading and surfacing from $2,095,000. Federal-state matched funds.

Insurance Policies. A $10,000 policy will cost you only $1.40 for a year's protection.

Medusa Company Beats Guy's Team In Return Contest

The Medusa Cement company softball team defeated the Guy's Confectionery ten in the second tilt between the two clubs at E. C. Smith school park Friday afternoon, by a 12-11 count.

Home runs were knocked by Jim Gemignani who smacked one, Alex Williams who got two, and R. Fane who connected for one. B. Gemignani hurt his leg and Kelly replaced him at shortfield. The cement plant team was ahead throughout the game. The Confectionery ten rallied in the ninth but fell short of tying the score by one run.

INSURGENTS ADD TO VICTORIES BY SEIZING GANDESA

Last Important Stronghold Barring March to Sea Captured

Zaragoza, April 2—(AP)—Insurgent Navarrese forces under General Garcia Valino today occupied Gandesa, only 21 miles from the Spanish government's eastern coast—the last important stronghold in Tarragona province barring the insurgent march to the Mediterranean.

The insurgents reported capturing 2,000 prisoners in seizing the city.

Gandesa is at the apex of a triangle of which Tortosa and the city of Tarragona, both on the coast southwest of Barcelona, form the other points. A drive between the two coastal cities would dismember government Spain.

Gandesa is the easternmost point to which insurgent forces have advanced in their northeastern Spanish offensive.

The city is on the southern flank of the line General Francisco Franco has been extending eastward to dismember Spanish government territory.

Occupation of Gandesa, insurgent military leaders said, would open for General Franco's armies the broad Ebro river valley, into the Tortosa delta, for a final push to the sea.

By highway Gandesa is 26 miles from Tortosa.

Insurgent dispatches said the entire northeast Spanish front was moving forward.

Persistent government resistance in the Lerida sector forced the insurgents to circle the besieged city, regarded as the gateway to Barcelona, and slowly fight their way through its defenses.

The insurgents said they captured a number of fortified defense positions around Lerida, forcing government militiamen to retire before machine gun fire.

The capture yesterday of Valderribas, at the eastern extremity of Tuel province, put the insurgents within 12 miles of the Mediterranean plains and gave them control of roads leading northeast to Gandesa.

Paris, April 2—(AP)—The perplexing problem of what to do with thousands of Spanish government militiamen interned at Bagneres De Luchon will be submitted to the cabinet Monday.

Thousands of Spaniards, including many soldiers, have fled into hospital France from Spanish insurgent armies sweeping across northeastern Spain.

A source close to the ministry of interior said the cabinet probably would decide to send the government soldiers back to whatever part of Spain they desire.

Officials have decided, however, this source said, that the government cannot afford to keep the militiamen indefinitely.

Officials here were notified by the mayor of Bagneres De Luchon that at least some of the voluntary exiles who crossed the snowy mountain trails of the Pyrenees want to be repatriated to the insurgent side.

Spanish government officers, who accompanied the soldiers across the border, were equally as insistent that all be sent back to Spanish government territory for future service in the army.

TO DIRECT LOYALISTS

Madrid, April 2—(AP)—General Jose Miaja went today to the newly-active Guadalajara battlefield, 75 miles northeast of Madrid, to direct government operations countering insurgent pressure on the Catalan front.

Semi-official reports said the Guadalajara campaign continued favorable to the government.

Fighting today was violent as the government launched new attacks near the scene of its great counter-offensive in March, last year, when a powerful insurgent army, including many Italians, was rolled back.

sition Democrats also got their heads together.

Then when the session started, the oppositionists resumed their delaying maneuvers.

Stack (D-Pa) forced a quorum call before Chairman Cochran (D-Mo) of the reorganization committee had a chance to move that consideration of the measure be resumed. The quorum call took half an hour.

The gallery was full except for the special reserved sections and people stood in line in the corridors waiting for a chance to get in.

House opponents of the bill, heartened by their success in beating an administration effort to shut off debate, predicted today the measure's defeat.

They said the 191 to -49 vote by which the House turned down last night a motion aimed at cutting the discussion of the bill assured an eventual majority against it.

Many Telegrams

Foes of the measure had followed a strategy of delay, hoping a deluge of telegraphic protests against the bill would swing wavering members to their side. Telegraphic companies said they had delivered about 150,000 messages to representatives, but did not estimate the number opposing or endorsing the bill.

Despite the vote, administration leaders insisted the proposal to give the President broad powers to reorganize executive departments was certain of enactment.

Two rousing speeches, one for and one against the bill, by two of the most influential Democrats in the House immediately preceded the vote.

Majority Leader Rayburn of Texas appealed to Democrats to support the President, ignore "propaganda" against the measure, and accept Republican opposition as a partisan issue for the 1938 campaign.

Rep. O'Connor (D-NY), whose chairmanship of the rules committee gave added weight to his advice, urged that the legislation be defeated.

SINNETT SAYS HORNER PADDED STATE PAYROLL

Peoria, Ill., April 2—(AP)—Thomas P. Sinnett of Rock Island, downstate campaign manager for the Igoe-Campbell-Martin ticket, charged today that Governor Horner has placed "thousands of employees" on the payroll as temporary employees whose services will be terminated a day or so after the primary.

Sinnett, who spoke here last night, asserted the state liquor commission is active in behalf of the Horner-supported Democratic ticket.

"Tavern owners are bludgeoned and intimidated and threatened with the loss and revocation of their licenses unless they go down the line in behalf of the governor's slate," said the former state representative.

Sinnett charged that "coercion, threats and intimidation" had replaced the governor's promise for a "free and open primary." He declared:

"Only last Saturday we had the spectacle of all the payrollers being dragged in from all parts of the state, many of them at the expense of the state, to attend a rally in behalf of Governor Horner's slate."

"Public service today is practically paralyzed and prostituted. Men and women no longer performing the duties of their respective offices, but are engaged in the cheap pastime of dispensing ballyhoo and propaganda."

Sinnett added that Horner talk of "efficiency and economy of government has become but a high-sounding phrase used by the governor to catch votes."

Certificate is Given

To the Merchant School

An interesting program was given at the Merchant school in Lee county on Thursday evening when that school was given a certificate for a superior school. Mrs. Eva Kranor is the teacher and has been employed there for the past 15 years.

The dedication program was divided into two parts, the first part was a musical with readings. In this part of the program the following persons took part: Mr. and Mrs. Kranor and son Donald, Clifford Bader, Miss Landon, teacher of Pope school, Miss Marian Mau, Lois May Larkin, Mrs. Mallach, teacher in Lee county, and Mrs. Jennie Hill.

The second part of the program was historical. The history of the school was given by Miss Dorothy Mau, former teacher. Charles Merchant started plans for the school in the early part of 1897. He moved his family onto a farm near the present school from Toulon, Ill., when his daughter Bessie was of school age.

The school was started in September, 1897, and the only trustee living who was one of the organizers is Charles McCarter of Harmon. The first teacher was Jennie Reed. The first pupils living are Mrs. Maurice Laursen, Louis Bontz, Pliney McCarter and Mrs. Edwin Mau. Mrs. Laursen and Mr. Bontz were present at the dedication. All these are still living in the vicinity of the school. A number of the former teachers were present and took part in the program.

Miss Mau spoke of the improvements of the school. Fourteen pupils were present and sang "School Days." W. W. Edson, a director for 31 years, and Edwin Mau, another director who holds a long record of service, were present.

Lee County Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller was also present. Marian Mau, a granddaughter of the founder, gave a toast to her grandfather and to the school. This was written by George Ross of Harmon.

A grand niece and grand nephew of Jennie Reed, children of James Reed and grandchildren of Burdette Reed, a former director and brother of the first teacher, gave a toast to the school and Miss Reed. These children are pupils of Mrs. Kranor. Other pupils of Mrs. Kranor sang several selections which brought the history of the school to 1938.

The directors gave short talks and then Mr. Miller presented the school with the superior certificate. It was accepted by Mrs. Edson and the pupils responded by singing "Superior School," the words being written by Mrs. Ross. Refreshments were served to over 100 persons. Many from Walnut, Harmon, Mendota, Rockford and nearby schools were present.

Souvenirs were given to all present. Mrs. Kranor was mistress of ceremonies.

Maynard Woudsma of New Bedford responded with a gracious greeting. The guest speaker was J. R. Palmer of Dixon, district engineer of safety of the state highway department. ### Elder Elected

The annual business meeting of Presbyterian church was held in the church Wednesday evening. A report from the various organizations of the church showed the church to be in a very prosperous condition. At the election of officers Clarence Miller was elected as elder, taking the place of his uncle, the late Joseph Gilbert. Eldership in the Presbyterian church is for life.

A real honor was bestowed upon Clarence when he was elected to this worthy and responsible position. For a young man these days to be so loyal to his church that they see fit to give him the highest office is certainly a recommendation to the young man. Wesley Herwig and Warren Schler were elected trustees and Frank Senger was re-elected a trustee. All the officers of the Sunday school were re-elected. At this meeting it was also decided to try out the plan for morning services only, during the summer months. This plan has worked very successfully in many other towns. The Methodist church has followed this plan for the past several years with much satisfaction. The regular church services will be held as usual Sunday night, at 7:30. After that there will be no more evening services.

Sing in Mt. Morris

The chorus of fifty voices from this community has been invited by the church of Mt. Morris to present the Easter cantata, "Hail the Victor," by Wooler, in the Methodist church in that place,

April 10, Palm Sunday evening. All of the churches of Mt. Morris are co-operating in this musical event. The chorus is under the able direction of Mrs. Bertha Rorick, of Dixon, the music instructor of the high school. We were informed

Thursday morning by a party who happened to be present at the practice Tuesday night, "This cantata is by far the best cantata ever presented here." We most sincerely recommend this chorus to the people of Mt. Morris and believe that there is a real treat in store for Palm Sunday. The cantata will be presented here in the new community gym, Easter Sunday evening. We hope to be able to give the full program in our items of Wednesday evening.

Services in the Churches
Sunday school in the Methodist church at 10:00. Preaching at 11:00. Topic, "Thou Art the Christ."
Sunday school in the Presbyterian church, 9:30. Preaching in the evening at 7:30. Everybody is invited to attend these services.

Brethren Notes
This Sunday evening a group of young people from North Manchester college will give a program at the Church of the Brethren. In their program they will present a play entitled "The Color Line." It is a one act play. The setting is in the office of the president of a college, Dr. Lawson. The story is built around Chun's reaction to answer Christians in their attitude toward religion, race prejudice, military training and war.

This promises to be a very fine program. The following is the cast of characters:
Dr. Lawson, college president, Dr. Reber; secretary to Dr. Lawson, Bernice Fry; Chun, Chinese student, David Studebaker; Stanley Preston, Ralph Fry; Barbara McKean, missionary's daughter, Pauline DeLauter; Wanda, college girl, Pauline Smith.

Sunday, April 10, will be roll call Sunday. Every member is urged to be present.

There are interesting discussion groups each Sunday evening for children, young people and adults. Sunday school 9:30 a. m. Worship 10:30 a. m.

Departmental work 7:30 p. m. Play, "The Color Line," 8:15 p. m.

Paul B. Studebaker, Pastor.

Cantata Practice

We have been requested to remind those taking part in the cantata to please remember the practice of Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the gym. It is hoped every member of the chorus will be present.

School Elections, April 9
Two members of the board of education of the community high school district are up for re-election this year and one member on the board of directors for district No. 58. Few people realize that school directors have a tremendous responsibility and yet serve the community without pay. Quite frequently they must make decisions for the best interests of the school that will certainly injure the feelings of the closest friends. The members of the high school board during the last year have given their time willingly for whole day inspection trips, contractor meetings, and regular board meetings which in many cases occurred as often as five times a month.

To the parents and patrons of our school who are vitally interested in maintaining the present superior rating of the grade school and the present accredited status of the high school we respectfully urge you people to vote for the re-election of the board members whose terms now expire. The men up for election are Blaine Hussey and William Brucker for high school members, and Fred C. Gross for the grade school board.

It might further be stated that the high school board deserves much praise for its wise policy in making the new Kersten gym a real community center. At the present writing over 10,000 people have used this building for community purposes other than its regular daily school uses.

Be sure to vote Saturday afternoon, April 9.

Women's Gym Teams
The women's volleyball ball teams invaded the high school G. A. A. meeting last Tuesday afternoon for three games of volleyball. The high school won the first game, but the ladies came back to win the last two games. This makes the second time that the women have defeated the girls by a two out of three score. The teams were all evenly matched and each game was won by only a few points.

People's Column

Many people upon receiving their tax notices were righteously incensed at discovering an unwarranted increase in taxes from that of last year. Our taxes on one farm were increased $39.15 more than last year, while the farm adjoining ours with far newer buildings has only an increase of $10.00 from last year. Another farm of 150 acres has an increase of $50.52 taxes from that of last year.

Last year wheat brought $1.18 a bushel—this year elevators are bidding 70 cents. Corn last year was $1.28 a bushel. This year, the elevators are bidding 46 cents and cattle last year sold for $19.10 a hundred. This year the farmer receives for his fat cattle from sixteen cents a pound, yet taxes are suddenly and unjustly increased to farmers who have falling farm prices with which to meet expensive taxes.

During the depression when banks and insurance companies took over farmers' homes, etc., taxes were immediately decreased to a new and sane low. Now that farmers have their property, back-taxes are unjustly increased enormously.

We would like to know just why some are compelled to pay their taxes, while others haven't paid theirs since 1931 and 1932 and brag about it and yet their property is not sold for taxes right in Lee county.

If in doubt, just consult last year's publication to verify my statement.

It is not just to increase taxes on those who pay every year and let others go without paying any taxes whatsoever. Many in the latter class assume to occupy positions of trust and honor. Times certainly are not better to warrant tax increase.

To prove this, loaning companies in our country have and are selling out many well deserving people, who, due to rapidly falling farm prices, have not been able to meet their obligations. Is it not time

The Story So Far:

Heartbroken because the man she loves has left her, Judith Goodloe decides to marry Reuben Oliver. This man, who has pulled himself up by his bootstraps, has one thing the aristocratic Goodloes need—money. Desperately in love with Judith, Reuben refuses to heed the warning of his partner, Clem Rogers, that unless he leaves the Maryland valley and gets back into the fight he is due for a financial licking. Clem's daughter, Cissy, who loves Reuben, will be the maid of honor.

Enter—The Bride

Reuben's trip west lengthened from days into weeks. About the failure of the Little Justice he was not convinced.

"With up to the minute machinery the well will produce better than ever," he believed that. He had to believe it.

"I'm not sending one more of my good dollars after bad ones," Clem told him flatly.

"I'll go it alone," Reuben said. "Want to buy my share?" sneeringly.

"Sure," proudly. It was madness. That was that. For better or worse the well was all his. The installation of expensive new equipment began. The expense was appalling. Reuben's assets began to melt as snow before an April sun. He must have ready cash. He sacrificed some securities. He sacrificed his yacht—

Each day he wrote her short inadequate letters. "Things are panning out all right," he persuaded himself they were, "but I'll be a working man when I come home, darling—I wish I could come today."

During his absence a private wire had been run to Reuben's house. A ticker installed. Secretary engaged. Typists, clerks. The library was turned into an office. Telephones rang. Messengers came and went. Reuben came home a busy man of affairs, with his finger on the pulse of things.

Gone was his leisure. His dreamy contentment.

He was in a frenzy to recover his losses. This was not entirely due to the natural craving of a fighter for victory. It gained impetus whenever he thought of the Goodloes and he thought of them almost constantly. They respected him—rich. Poor? He thought of Gary Brent too—an added spur.

He plunged into some not quite sound investments with the recklessness of desperation, depending upon his luck to see him through. If he could stay on the job—

"Would you mind postponing our trip awhile, Judith?" he asked the day he arrived home.

Her vivid face betrayed how devastated she would be. She was holding to that trip around the world with the same tenacious tenacity with which an aerial artist clings to his trapeze. It was the fragile span—with its color, excitement, change, that was to carry her through the first hazardous months of her marriage. "Of course, if you can't leave, Reuben—"

"I can." Why worry about a bridge he might never have to cross? Each day was bringing order out of chaos, and when the good old Little Justice started again—

But—he knew he should have told her the true state of affairs. He was afraid to tell her. Whoever said love made men strong, lied. Love made men weak.

Wedding or Funeral? Their wedding day. One of those perfect days that September brings to Maryland.

While it was still morning Biddy O'Hare presented the bride with a leggy, wobbly, sorrel colt. Judith, disdaining the beauty sleep a bride is supposed to get, hurried to the paddock to welcome the newcomer. "Oh, you precious!" She went down on her knees, helped the sorrel to his wobbly legs and kissed the slate-gray muzzle.

Reuben watched her with a queer tightness in his throat. "What will you name him, Judy?" "Paddy O'Hare."

"We'll christen him with wedding punch," Cissy suggested.

With a smile on her lips, dark despair in her heart, Cissy had arrived that morning. Her present—a mammoth old Sarouk had arrived ahead of her.

"It's a wedding, let it be a wedding. If it's a funeral, let it be a funeral. Never mix the two."

It was a good motto. She said it over and over to sustain herself. She felt like a traveler in the desert lost in an endless stretch of hot, shifting sand. And Reuben, the poor sap—sitting over an earthquake and pretending not to know.

The sooner this wedding was over the better, then she could go off somewhere and yowl her fool head off.

At last it was five o'clock. The bishop had taken his place between the long west windows. Sun streamed in on brightly attired women, on black coated men.

An orchestra under the stairway played softly. The bridesmaids—a veritable rainbow—ushers, flower girls, assembled in the hall, in chattering expectancy, among them Cissy, feeling as though she was about to witness an execution, but looking gorgeous as Cleopatra in shimmering, yellow brocade of golden velvet with touches of golden brown. Mammoth brown hat. Brown slippers with high gold heels, gold buckles that brought glances of praise and envy to Cissy's lovely feet. They were wasted today.

An unruly tear splashed down her tipped nose to the chrysanthemums in her hands. In five minutes Reuben would be married. All her aristocratic founded and built years ago in the black mud of Warder were crashing down—while she stood here with a lot of giggling people!

She couldn't bear it! She broke from the waiting line, slipped through the open door.

Savagely she winked back the tears that threatened to blind her. Hurriedly she walked up and down the terrace, regardless of her filmy train dragging over the stones. She mustn't cry—she must not! Her still heels beat it out in sharp tattoo. She must not cry—

She didn't see the messenger boy on a bicycle until he was almost upon her. Startled she asked crossly: "What do you want?"

"Telegram for Mr. Oliver. Important!"

"Give it to me."

Mad, Dizzying Hope. She signed for it with not too steady fingers. Her heart was racing like a wild thing. She knew pretty well what the envelope in her hand contained. The new machinery had been tried out yesterday. It had failed then. It had failed today. It would fail tomorrow. The Little Justice was done for.

For a long moment Cissy stood like a graven image, while turbulent emotions seethed within her and a light wind sent the yellow train swirling about her feet. What must she do? If she gave this to Reuben now—would the wedding go on?

Cissy shut her eyes. A mad, dizzying hope surged through her. If the wedding did not go on—? She crushed the telegram in her hand. Tried to crush her longings with it. No use. This was her chance, her one chance for happiness. She had a right to fight for it. It would be different if Judith loved Rube—

"I'm not made of the stuff of martyrs," Cissy decided. "I want my happiness—warm, human—here and now—If Judith is a good sport—Everything's fair in love and war—" She was just Cissy—No one expected her to be fine and noble—

"I'll get this to Rube now!" She walked towards the house. An usher called excitedly from the doorway: "Hurry, we're waiting!"

Cissy stepped indoors—The bride was coming down the stairs—

An old stairway. A young bride. Youth and courage—descending slowly—step by step.

Judith still walked in a sort of trance, the leading lady in a great drama, which was unfolding magnificently. If there were long hours in the still of the night, when the stage was cleared, when she was sized with panic, it vanished with the rising sun and left her high-heeled to meet this day.

Sweet and untouched as an apple blossom she came faintly smiling. She wore her great grandmother's wedding gown, ivory with age and shrouded in folds of priceless old lace.

"Ah-h-h!" A murmur like a June breeze blowing over a field of clover. "The Bride!"

Subconsciously Cissy stuffed the yellow envelope deep into the heart of her bouquet and moved forward with the procession. Moved mechanically—without sense of direction. She saw Dick Blout, rotund and farm, beside Reuben, very straight with taut lips. His eyes adored Judith.

"God," prayed Cissy, into her woodbrown chrysanthemums. "Don't let her fail him. Help her, please, and forget all about me. I'm used to hoeing my own—"

The bishop impressively began to counsel the young pair before him to be patient, to be true. To bear with one another's weaknesses.

"What does she know about bearing anything?" thought Cissy fiercely. "What does she know except having her own way and being fussed over and—"

Mechanically she took the shower of white bridal bouquet Judith handed her. She knelt beside the bride. If she drew the telegram out of her own flowers now? Her fingers itched to draw it out.

Day by Day Lessons for Reading During Lenten Season

Read St. John 8:12-18

The Pharisees therefore said unto Him, Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true. Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know when I came, and whither I go; buy ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

Here on the eve of Passiontide, we are given a vision of the Passion seen through the eyes of the evangelist we call St. John. We see not so much the Man of Sorrows suffering wrong, but rather the world condemned and defeated. Storm and tempest close around Him; darkness and clouds hide Him; but every now and then a gleam of sunshine reveals a radiant figure still standing white, serene, untouched. Before the judgment seat, upon the Cross, He is calm and majestic; He is rather the Judge than the Victim.

The other three evangelists give us different pictures; but all combined leave the story still incomplete. Coming to the Cross and Passion we enter into a mystery so deep, so many-sided, that no human imagination can ever exhaust the fullness of its meaning.

My Lord, my Saviour, when I see Thee wearing Upon Thy bleeding brow the crown of thorn, Shall I for pleasure live, or shrink from bearing Whate'er my lot be of pain or scorn?

Passion Sunday, Fifth in Lent, April 3

Epistle: Prayer book, page 132.

Gospel: Prayer book, page 133.

We come today within the shadow of the Passion. In many churches today the Cross is veiled, to show that we are entering a great mystery, beyond man's power to fathom, as we thought yesterday. Yet we come, the Collect says, as God's people, to understand as much as we can.

And we see our Lord Jesus Christ first as "High Priest of good things to come." He will show us that good, not evil, is supreme; that evil has no rightful place in His universe. He will teach us this not in the language of philosophy, but in action, in sacrifice, in self-offering. And He makes the lesson more real to us by drawing into His own sacrifice, through Holy Communion.

POSITION OF WINDOW FEATURE OF LIGHTING The size of windows is not really as important as the position of the windows in the wall. The best light comes from the upper part of the window, as that is thrown farther back into the room and increases the reflected light of the room itself. As far as ventilation is concerned, the high window again has the advantage, as it allows the warmest air to escape.
